SHEEPSHEAD CONTESTS THAT WERE UNPLEAS.

ANT TO WITNESS.

The conspiracy to rob turf millionaires which has been in existence in this State for many years was in full swing at Sheepshead yesterday. Amercan capitalists who have bought horses and have attempted to win reass honorably and fairly have been fiseced on many occasions by distrainers, dishonest jockeys, conest bookmakers, dishonest poolrooms and swindlers of all classes. The Belmonts, Lorillards, the Whitneys, the Santhe Morgans, the Keenes, the Dalys, and many others have been defrauded without bar or check Labor Day the number of adventurous wayfarers SHEEPSHEAD BAY ENTRIES FOR TO-DAY. who went to Sheepshead was smallMost of the speciators were sorry that they had not spent the afternoon in Greenwood or in some other comfertable graveyard on Long Island. September sours can be used more acceptably in quiet meditation upon the virtues of the dear departed in the ombs within which they sleep soundly than in partering with the bookmakers who offer prices *grainst corpses.

The track at Sheepshead was dry and fast. In The track at Sheepshead was dry and fast. In a clear, fair contest David Garrick would have been successful in the final scene, but as it was one of a long series probably arranged in advance for the purpose of picking the pockets of an American millionaire owner on the American turf. David Garrick ran second to Maid of Harlem. Pierre Lorllard has announced his intention of racing his horses abroad. His decise is sound and wise. He cannot get decent treatment on the turf in this Stata.

In the Flight Stakes Voter was the favorite, and ran third. Mr. Whitney's filly Rush carried only M pounds by the conditions of the Flight, while Voter was compelled to take up 122. Rush, with her light weight, clung to Voter for a half mile with such speed that Voter was discouraged, and in the homestretch he was outrun by Heliobas and Refeatler.

in the homestretch he was outrum by Heilobas and Srigadier.

In the third race O'Connor rode Bombshell with 100 pills and force, and took first place in a 100 finish from Belle of Troy and King Bramble. Last week that Fagin jockey Shaw pulled Bombshell all over the track, when Bombshell was the favorite. But Shaw has not yet been ruled off the 100 fig. The starting yesterday was so careless, blundering and clumsy that a deaf mute at the point of feath from sunstroke would have been ashamed of it. But this great State, first of the States of the Union, is vain of a Racing Commission of three yachtsmen, who dream of To-footers, of a jockey lub of self-worshippers and a turf so undermined and honeycombed with wrong that it may fall to pleces at any moment.

eces at any moment. Nothing happened at Sheepshead yesterday which Nothing happened at Sheepshead yesterday which merited a syliable of praise. Much of the starting was contemptible in the extreme, and much of the iding was plainly poolroom riding. Swindle after swindle, steal after steal, fraud after fraud, was practised impudently upon the credulous dupes who went into the betting ring to be deprived of their money. What attempt to secure equitable sport could be discovered anywhere? The racing afficials have decided that Beard's Charagrace should not be allowed to start until further notice. Could any result of an inquiry with regard to the performances of Beard's jumping horses be more insignificant? What protection from the depredations of professional coggers and commers do the innocent and weak minded people who so to the races in that state in these days receive? Any more than the innamed Armenians receive from the unspeakable Durk?

urk? William C. Whitney has written this letter for

To the Secretary of the Coney Island Jockey Club. Dear Sir: The running of the Flatbush Stakes recently was most unsatisfactory to every one. As the winner of the stake it was specially so to me. The circumstances of the race left in doubt the question which horse would have won in a true run race. It would be agreeable to me if you would retain from the winnings of my stable at this meetretain from the winnings of my stable at this meeting the amount won by me in the Flatbush, and arrange for a meeting of the two horses at Morris Park, and addth is money for me to such stake as may be put up by the Westchester Association.

The race to be at seven furlongs and at equal weights.

If the event does not occur by reason of the nonappearance at the post for any cause of Ballyhoo
Bey you may retain the money for such fund applicable to disabled jockeys as we may agree upon.
This proposal does not call in question the dedision of the race by the stewards. It simply assumes that the race was not truly run, which all admit. Very respectfully,

WILLIAM C. WHITNEY.

New-Fork, Sept. 4, 1900.

New-York, Sept. 4, 1900.

This was a most liberal, broad-minded and praiseworthy suggestion on the part of Mr. Whitney, and it called out much enthusiastic eulogy on the part of every generous and true-hearted turfman who heard of it at the track. But when Fouhall Keene was asked by a Tribune reporter if he would say anything about Mr. Whitney's letter he refused to talk. In some quarters an impression prevails that Foxhall Keene is most eloquent when he is asleep. If Mr. Whitney letter brings about a special contest between Ballyhoo Bey and Tommy Atkins at Mortis Park, Mr. Whitney will not have put pen to paper in vain. It is probable that Tommy Atkins is a better racehorse than Ballyhoo Bey, but James Rowe is the trainer of Tommy Atkins, while J. E. Madden is the trainer of Tommy Atkins, while J. E. Madden is the trainer and turfman now living, far superior to Rowe. If Ballyhoo Bey defeats Tommy Atkins in that special race at Morris Pork or in any other race hereafter, his victory will be due to the genius of J. E. Madden as a trainer sod a horseman rather than to any intrinsic superiority on the part of Ballyhoo Bey. In Shot winner of the first race, was entered to be sold for $300. W. M. Meis ran her up to $1,300 and got her at that price. Barney Schreiber owned her and is well rid of her. She is not worth nearly $1,300. O'Connor's riding of Balloon in that first race was expecdingly verticinous. It was so bad that there could be no excuse for it. But O'Connor won the Flight Stakes with Hellobas, after Rush, with her light weight, had taken the heart out of Voter. O'Connor rode West Baden briskly, brightly and strongly in the fourth race, while Odon rode the favorite. Chantieleer, with so little energy and test that he ought to have been set down for the favorite. Chantieleer, with so little energy and test that he ought to have been set down for the favorite. Chantieleer, with so little energy and test that he ought to have been set down for the favorite.

that he ought to have been set down to the feat of the season.

Upsets occurred in the third, fourth and fifth races. Unfairness in the starting, unfairness and fraud in some of the riding unfairness in every detail of a considerable part of the racing such was the prevalent condition of affairs yesterday. But the American people dearly love to be cheated, and they will probably continue to flock to the races to be cheated every day while the unfair racing is kept up.

ELKWOOD PARK IN NEW HANDS.

The Elkwood Park one mile track and grand stand at Long Branch were leased yesterday by the Long Branch Driving Club. The Elkwood track was purchased a few years ago of the Long Branch Athletic Association by Philip Daly, but has proved thus far a losing investment for its owner. The driving club has issued a call for organization, which will take place next Sunday evening at the West End Hotel. Invitations have been issued to leading horsemen of New-York, Philadelphia, Long leading horsemen of New-York, Philadelphia, Long Branch and other places to attend the meeting.

The driving club has been assured that the New-York and Long Branch Railroad Company will erect a station at Elkwood, while the officials of the Atlantic Highlands, Red Bank and Long Branch Electric Railway Company have given the same assurance that they will run a loop to the park. An effort will be made to get a date in the Grand Circuit meeting. The season will open on July 4, the date which marked the opening of Monmouth Park, and a series of twelve matinee races will be held during the summer.

HOW TO BE PHOTOGRAPHED. From The Boston Journal.

From The Boston Journal

The other day a famous American photographer complained that he had won notoriety by playing the fool with his art; he had only to place his sitter, he told us, in an absurd light and get a dazzling ray upon the Adam's apple to win the adulation of American artistic circles. Philosophers say that the only things worth looking for are causes, and it might be worth the photographer's while to seek the cause of the fashion he condemns. It is, we take it, the revolt of people against the ordinary photograph, where the sitter appears, in a rigid attitude, dressed in a new suit, with his head fresh from the hands of the shampooer. That is artistically bad, and it is vuigar; but in their anxiety to kill the custom photographers have flown to an equally absurd fashion—the fashion condemned by the American. The sensible photographer will try and dissuade his sitters from appearing in any striking garment, and will coax them out of their desire to pose in an unnatural attitude. He will strive to make his photograph a picture, and nothing looks so had in a picture as new ciothes and an "attitude." Especially is this the case with children. Parents are much too fond of sending their oilve branches to the photographer's studio tricked out in the fashion of Little Lord Fauntleroy, instead of bidding them go thither in Holland jerkin, with their hair tumbled and their socks about their shoes. It is very rarely that one sees a photograph of children which suggests the charming naturainess of childhood, and the photograph of an adult which brings the living nan before the eye is by no means common.

GOLF.

HARRIMAN TO PLAY IN ST. REGIS TOUR-NAMENT-THE STATEN ISLAND CHAMPIONSHIP.

Herbert M. Harriman, the ex-champion of the United States, will be one of the competitors in the St. Regis golf tournament, which is to begin at Paul Smith's, in the Adirondacks, to-morrow. Harriman's last appearance was at Newport a week ago, where he was beaten by Charles Hitchcock, jr., the Yale champion, by 2 up. The ex-champion is evidently anxious to get back to form before the opening of the metropolitan season, for it is said that he will appear in a number of out-of town contests in the next few weeks, including that at Lenox, on September 10.

As the St. Regis tournament follows so closely that at the Ampersand links on Lower Saranac Lake it is expected that most of the competitors in the latter affair will take part. In fact, Percy Pyne, 2d, the intercollegiate champion, has already entered, while other well known players to send in their names are Tiffany, of Lakewood; Ransom, of Albany; Lindsley and Conklin. The tournament will begin to-morrow with an eighteen hole qualifying round, after which the best sixteen cided on Monday. Three handsome cups have been offered as prizes. The entry list will remain open until to-morrow morning

Frederick C. Cary, secretary of the Tuxedo Golf Club, makes an announcement of general interest regarding the tournament to be held on the Tuxedo links on September 12, 13, 14 and 15. The prizes are to be four in number, and in addition there will be a number of handsome medals. The chief trophy is the Tuxedo Cup presented by Charles F. Hoffman, and for which the best sixteen will qualify. W. P. Hamilton offers the Ramapo Cup for the second sixteen, while A. D. Henry gives the Wee Wah Cup for those who fall to qualify for the other two. The Mountain Cup, presented by Thomas Stokes, is offered for the thirty-six hole handicap that is to bring the tournament to a

It is now more than two years since the Tuxedo players have given a tournament open to golfers at large, and as they have in the mean time acquired an eighteen hole course there is considerable affair will be well managed is evident from the committee having charge of it, which consists of Walker Smith, W. pleasant variation from the usual big contests. It is as follows:

Sectional championships are to be the rule this fall. Staten Island is to have one soon, which means that the Harbor Hill, Richmond County, Clovens and Fox Hill's golf clubs will all send rep-resentatives. Colonel J. R. Branch offers the championship trophy and the Richmond County Country Club its links. Staten Island numbers so many good players this season that the quality of the play should be exceedingly good. The tournament is to begin on Saturday, and the players making the eight best scores will keep on at match play. Lake Mahopac is still going strong on golf and in spite of the fact that its links has been open scarcely two months, some capital scores are being made there. The members of the club are planning to continue their tournaments until October, and some of the more important dates decided upon are:

September 8—Team match, Mahopac and Bedford, at Mahopac.
September 12—Women's competition for club prizes.
September 15—Team match, Mahopac and Bedford, at selford.

September 19.—Women's tournament at medal play. September 22.—Mixed foursome tournament, eigh-oles, medal play. September 26.—Women's handicap. September 28 and 29.—Men's tournaments.

What Robert Lockhart says about golf is always interesting, for he was one of the original members of the old Yonkers "Apple Tree Gang," which in-troduced the game in this country back in 1887.

of the did Yonkers "Apple Tree Gang," which introduced the game in this country back in 1887. "I think," said Mr. Lockhart the other day in speaking of the growth of the game, "that we have the very best golfers in the world right here in America, and a class of amateurs which is hard to beat. That class is growing, especially among the collegians. This interest among them will in the course of a few years develop players who to my mind will keep the players of the old country on the jump to beat. I am sure if we could take our present amateurs to Scotland or England and allow them two or three years practice on such courses as St. Andrews, Hoylake or Sandwich, they would not have their peers. With the energy, carefulness and study which the American generally puts into his sport I question whether even a Freddy Tate (poor fellow, who not long ago lost his life in South Africa) in his best form could give them a third."

In spite of all the talk about a meeting between Taylor and Vardon, it seems unlikely that the two will face each other before the open championship at Chicago in October. Taylor, for some unknown reason, seems unwilling to risk a match, and Vardon's offer to meet him on any links for a purse of $500 has gone untaken. Vardon will return to this city to-day or to-morrow, and is booked to appear at Seabright on Friday and Saturday. But Taylor has meanwhile taken himself off to the White Mountains, and nobody seems to know when he will be back, it is regarded as unfortunate by golf men that the very match most eagerly desired by all should be impossible, owing to this unsportsmanlike attitude of the champion. Perhaps they may come to terms later in the season, but thus far all negotiations looking to a match have falled. The borie contests at the Baltusrol Golf Club have proved so popular that the Greens Committee has decided to continue them on each Saturday in September. All accommodations in the annex cottages of the club have been cane ind for the week of October it, at which time Baltusrol is Within a year past, a new recreation has been added to the pastimes of Americans. The bicycle has been wonderfully popular. The self-propelled vehicle, built upon bicycle plans, promises to be equally so. Factories are springing up in large number, devoted to the production of these machines, and are working to their utmost capacity. The Tribune's excellent automobile news is a recognition of the popularity of the new

The automobile has come to stay. It is more practical than the horse, less expensive to operate, and cleaner. Business houses are adopting a self-propelled machine for delivery purposes; livery stables could no longer exist in the front rank in large cities without it; and fashion has given its unmistakable approval to the new method of

With a view to attract the attention of those who would value the possession of an automobile, an arrangement has been made between "The Mobile Company of America," at Tarrytown, N. The machine has been built, and will be placed on exhibition, and due notice of where it can be seen will be given in these columns. The Tribune will conduct the contest, receive the votes, announce the results from time to time, and award the prize.

CYCLING.

ARRANGING CIRCUIT DATES-RIDERS SUSPENDED

The National Cycling Association has arranged National circuit dates at Indianapolis, September 6 and 11. On September 6 the one-third mile uncharacter will be contested. Originally these races were to have been decided at Milwaukee, but were declared off on account of the poor track. It is probable that several other Grand Circuit meets will be arranged before October 1, on which date the regular championship season will end. September 22 is a possible date at Montreal for the five mills championship. mile championship. Grant McIlnay, Lincoln, Neb., has been suspended from all connection with cycle racing from August 18 to January 18, 1901, for conducting races without a permit. For competing in these races the following riders are suspended: Julian Gurry, Louis Todd, Albert Best. W. P. Goodrow, Lincoln, Neb. For refusing to obey the instructions of the referee at Sait Lake City, Utah, John Lawson is fined $20 or suspended for fifteen days. For the same offence Gus Lawson is fined $10 or suspended for fifteen days. Harry Davis, Jersey City, and George Shilling, Bayonne, have been suspended until December 1, for competing in a novice race after having won a prize For a similar offence August Klinger, Yonkers, has been suspended until September 19; William McKengle, of this city, until January 1, and M. A case involving the rights of city visitors in Freeport came up before Judge A. B. Wallace at Freeport, Long Island, yesterday. Milton Lowell, a young Brooklyn man, and a party of friends ent there on Saturday, and, after staying for a time at a hotel, started to ride bicycles to Woodcliff Channel. Lowell saw many wheelmen riding on the sidewalks, and, as the roadway was poor, he decided to "follow suit." He had not gone far on the sidewalk when he was arrested by Constable Dunbar for violating a village ordinance that prohibits riding on sidewalks. Lowell and his friends were highly indignant that any discrimina-tion should be made between visitors and residents. Lowell gave ball and appeared for trial. He pleaded guilty. Several residents pleaded for elemency ment, defeating Gliman Finally by and 4 to play, in 36 holes. A. P. Clapp, of the Dyker Meddow Club, took the Consolation Cup, by defeating A. W. Black 10 up and 9 to play. The weather was again perfect, and the faithful gallery was, of course, on hand to witness the morning play. The Lindsley-Tiffany match was a fine display of golf, and low scoring was the rule.

At the seventeenth hole they stood all even, but Lindsley holed his approach shot on the home green for a 2, thereby ending the first half, but Lindsley lifted on two holes, so no score was bept. Tiffany, however, tied the record of the course on his first round, with a beautiful 37, and a 42 on the second round gave him the splendid card of 73 Lindsley began operations in the afternoon by winning the first three holes, and thereafter was never

He said that, as far as he was concerned, he would never discriminate against visitors, and had made no distinction between residents of the village and strangers.

The District of Columbia Division of the League of American Wheelmen is meeting with success in building another sidepath near Washington. As there is no sidepath law in the District, as there is in some of the States, the funds for construction have to be raised in ways other than by the collection of a tax upon wheelmen. The division has been securing the money in a number of ways. One of the most successful was a steamboat excursion last week. A large number attended, and the profits of the trip will be used for extending the path of the trip will be used for extending the path.

Harry Elkes and John E. It is expected that the first race will take place on Saturday September 15, or Monday, September 17.
